

time:matters reports strong growth

The expert for “Special Speed Logistics” reports a strong half-year / international market is the greatest growth driver / notable success for industry solutions in the fields of life & health, semicon, automotive and aviation

Neu-Isenburg, July 20, 2015: Following the successful spin-out of Liefery, time:matters, the international expert for sameday delivery and special speed logistics, reports a very strong development in the core business as well. The business figures for the first six months of the current fiscal year show a more than 13 percent increase in revenue as compared to the previous year. Thereby the company continued the positive developments of 2014, which was the strongest year in the history of the company, with a turnover growth of 10%. Especially the international business exhibited above-average growth: positive developments in the USA as well as in Benelux countries and in Central and Eastern European countries significantly contributed to time:matters' success.

During the first six months of 2015, business with industry customers has proved to be a sustainable growth driver – especially customers from the automotive and aviation sectors have demonstrated a strong interest in industry solutions. Furthermore, the field life & health reported a significant increase in revenue as well – here time:matters managed to gain additional international customers for its Medical On Board Service.

The booking portal “time:matters online” was launched in May 2015. The intelligent web platform covers the entire service portfolio for highly urgent sameday transports within Europe. “time:matters online” gives customers the opportunity to book their sameday transports in a quick and easy manner.

“The positive business development during the first half of 2015 confirms our strategic focus and momentum,” explains Franz-Joseph Miller, CEO of the time:matters group. “In addition to ongoing expansion of the network, our emphasis remains on the development of specific industry solutions as well as the advancement of our integrated web-based transport platform.”
