time:matters named Bosch Preferred Supplier for fourth time in a row

Neu-Isenburg, May 04, 2023: time:matters, the expert in sustainable high-performance logistics, has been awarded Preferred Supplier status by Bosch for the fourth time in a row. time:matters GmbH is therefore the preferred logistics supplier in the Global Courier Services category for technology and service company Bosch.

The two companies have already been working together very successfully since 2014. time:matters provides particularly competitive services for Bosch's global production sites and divisions through tailor-made logistics solutions designed to facilitate time-critical material supply. In addition to speed and reliability, transports are also based on an individual and flexible service.

"Being once again awarded Preferred Supplier status is fantastic confirmation of our now almost ten years of cooperation," says a delighted Lars Krosch, COO of time:matters GmbH. "This recognition further underscores the success of our long-term, sustainable service excellence strategy. We are strongly committed to meeting Bosch's requirements as a Preferred Supplier in the future as well."

Logistics service transparency and seamless communication by a dedicated team of permanently assigned contacts are important criteria for the Preferred Supplier status, which Bosch awards annually for twelve months at a time as part of its supplier management program. This program aims to establish long-term business relationships and promote shared global growth with the best and most innovative suppliers.
